

Cambridge AWiSE Career Development Conference, 18th June 2010.

How are Cambridge AWiSE and your career similar? Both need your time and investment to flourish!

We are rolling out our first ever Cambridge AWiSE Career Development Conference on 18th June 2010. We have inspirational speakers from the world of Science and Technology and give you an intensive burst of training to take your career to the next level.

Morning Session

The morning will feature Cambridge AWiSE member, Dr. Suzanne Doyle-Morris, author of “Beyond the Boys’ Club” who will talk about the key strategies for success used by the women she works with to help them “move beyond the boys’ club”. We will then have a panel discussion with successful women scientists and technologists who will share what went well and what they had to learn along the way while building their careers.

Afternoon Session

Following lunch we will have a value-packed afternoon featuring experts in confidence, workplace politics, body language and image.

- Understanding and Using Workplace Politics
Michelle Brailsford, partner, Jupiter Consulting.
- Precision Thinking for Confident Outcomes
Kate Atkin, author “The Confident Manager”.
- Raise Your Game – Do you Reflect Your Worth?
Carol Collins, President of the International Federation of Image Consultants.
- Using Body Language to Get Ahead at Work
Elizabeth Kunhke, author “Body Language for Dummies”.

The day will end with a champagne networking session with colleagues and new friends.

Can you afford to miss this high-value intensive training day dedicated to women in STEM fields?

Your investment - £247 for the full day with lunch at a Cambridge College, book now places are limited.

Vitality, all profits from the day will go towards helping Cambridge AWiSE support local women in STEM.

Cambridge Association for Women in Science and Engineering

Book your place now by emailing info@camawise.org.uk

Connecting and inspiring women in science, technology, engineering, maths and medicine.

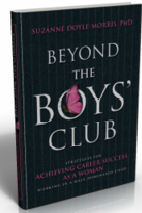

Cambridge AWiSE Career Development Conference, 18th June 2010.

How are Cambridge AWiSE and your career similar? Both need your time and investment to flourish!

We are rolling out our first ever Cambridge AWiSE Career Development Conference on 18th June 2010. The day will provide inspirational speakers from the world of Science and Technology and give you an intensive burst of training to take your career to the next level. We are proud to have assembled experts from a range of career development fields to speak on the day.

Morning Session

The morning will feature Cambridge AWiSE member, Dr. Suzanne Doyle-Morris, author of “Beyond the Boys’ Club” who will talk about the key strategies for success used by the women she works with to help them “move beyond the boys’ club”. We will then have a panel discussion with successful women scientists and technologists who will share what went well and what they had to learn along the way while building their careers.

Afternoon Session

Following lunch we will have a value-packed afternoon featuring experts in confidence, workplace politics, body language and image.

- Understanding and Using Workplace Politics - Michelle Brailsford, partner, Jupiter Consulting.
- Precision Thinking for Confident Outcomes - Kate Atkin, author “The Confident Manager”.
- Raise Your Game – Do you Reflect Your Worth? - Carol Collins, President of the International Federation of Image Consultants.
- Using Body Language to Get Ahead at Work - Elizabeth Kunhke, author “Body Language for Dummies”.

The day will end with a champagne networking session with colleagues and new friends.

Can you afford to miss this high-value intensive training day dedicated to women in STEM fields?

Your investment - £247 for the full day with lunch at a Cambridge College. Book now, limited places.

Vitaly, all profits from the day will go towards helping Cambridge AWiSE support local women in STEM.

Cambridge Association for Women in Science and Engineering

Book your place now by emailing info@camawise.org.uk

Connecting and inspiring women in science, technology, engineering, maths and medicine.

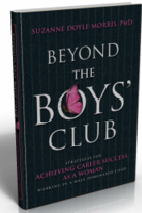

Cambridge AWiSE Career Development Conference, 18th June 2010.

How are Cambridge AWiSE and your career similar? Both need your time and investment to flourish!

We are rolling out our first ever Cambridge AWiSE Career Development Conference on 18th June 2010. The day will provide inspirational speakers from the world of Science and Technology and give you an intensive burst of training to take your career to the next level. We are proud to have assembled experts from a range of career development fields to speak on the day.

Morning Session

The morning will feature Cambridge AWiSE member, Dr. Suzanne Doyle-Morris, author of “Beyond the Boys’ Club” who will talk about the key strategies for success used by the women she works with to help them “move beyond the boys’ club”. We will then have a panel discussion with successful women scientists and technologists who will share what went well and what they had to learn along the way while building their careers.

Afternoon Session

Following lunch we will have a value-packed afternoon featuring experts in confidence, workplace politics, body language and image.

- Understanding and Using Workplace Politics - Michelle Brailsford, partner, Jupiter Consulting.
- Precision Thinking for Confident Outcomes - Kate Atkin, author “The Confident Manager”.
- Raise Your Game – Do you Reflect Your Worth? - Carol Collins, President of the International Federation of Image Consultants.
- Using Body Language to Get Ahead at Work - Elizabeth Kunhke, author “Body Language for Dummies”.

The day will end with a champagne networking session with colleagues and new friends.

Can you afford to miss this high-value intensive training day dedicated to women in STEM fields?

Your investment - £247 for the full day with lunch at a Cambridge College. Book now, limited places.

Vitality, all profits will go towards helping Cambridge AWiSE support local women in STEM.

Cambridge Association for Women in Science and Engineering

Book your place now by emailing info@camawise.org.uk

Connecting and inspiring women in science, technology, engineering, maths and medicine.

Cambridge AWiSE Career Development Conference, 18th June 2010

How are Cambridge AWiSE and your career similar? Both need your time and investment to flourish!

We are rolling out our first ever Cambridge AWiSE Career Development Conference on 18th June 2010. The day will provide inspirational speakers from the world of Science and Technology and give you an intensive burst of training to take your career to the next level. We are proud to have assembled experts from a range of career development fields to speak on the day.

Morning Session

The morning will feature Cambridge AWiSE member, Dr. Suzanne Doyle-Morris, author of "Beyond the Boys' Club" who will talk about the key strategies for success used by the women she works with to help them "move beyond the boys' club". We will then have a panel discussion with successful women scientists and technologists who will share what went well and what they had to learn along the way while building their careers.

Afternoon Session

Following lunch we will have a value-packed afternoon featuring experts in confidence, workplace politics, body language and image.

- Understanding and Using Workplace Politics
Michelle Brailsford, partner, Jupiter Consulting.
- Precision Thinking for Confident Outcomes
Kate Atkin, author "The Confident Manager".
- Raise Your Game – Do you Reflect Your Worth?
Carol Collins, President of the International Federation of Image Consultants.
- Using Body Language to Get Ahead at Work
Elizabeth Kunhke, author "Body Language for Dummies".

The day will end with a champagne networking session with colleagues and new friends.

Can you afford to miss this high-value intensive training day dedicated to women in STEM fields?

Your investment - £247 for a full day with lunch at a Cambridge College. Book now, places are limited.

Vitaly, all profits from the day will go towards helping Cambridge AWiSE support local women in STEM.

Cambridge Association for Women in Science and Engineering

Book your place now by emailing info@camawise.org.uk

Connecting and inspiring women in science, technology, engineering, maths and medicine.