

Suzanne Doyle-Morris Doyle Morris Coaching and Development

Through my company, I use my background in women's issues to help female professionals grow into senior roles and improve their performance within their organisations.

I studied for my B.A in Women's Studies and Psychology at St.Mary's College of Maryland in the U.S. I then received my M.Phil and subsequent Ph.D. in Educational Research from Cambridge University, where my doctoral dissertation focused on the experiences of women in Engineering. I have worked with clients at the University of Cambridge, Women in Technology, UBS, Trinity College Dublin, O2, Microsoft and Marshall Aerospace as well as smaller firms that want to retain and develop their key people.

Cambridge
AWiSE

Association for Women in Science and Engineering